sons, and this can now best be accomplished by the immediate introduction of street railroads. The idea that the city should look to these roads as a source of direct revenue, is simply absurd, and the example of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Chicago, and St. Louis, where no tax, or a merely nominal one is charged, ought to be sufficient to liberalize the ideas of our Council upon the subject. It is argued by some of these sapient legislators, that the Companies building the roads will make the profit, and that the city should participate therein. Suppose they do make a profit, are they not as fully entitled to do so as those who invest large sums in any other business? Capital will command ten per cent. per annum, if invested in well secured mortgages, and is it reasonable to suppose that men will run the risk of building and working a railway to make less? We should think not. Members of Council seem to imagine that parties can be found to build these roads for the mere glory of the thing, or from benevolent motives. We would respectfully suggest that such is not the case; they build them for profit, and if they cannot see the profit clearly, they will not invest money, and who can blame them?

And to the question of the right of the city to charge any greater tax upon Railroad than the cost of issuing the license, I do not think among them is the least. The city, in the item of street lighting, is effected by driving off the omnibus, and the pavement more than makes up the cost. Again, the Railroad facility of access to distant places combined. The Railroads are a DUBIF property now lying idle, and increase the revenue by means of a value of taxable real estate.

Glasgow, Tag the pecuniary benefits to the city. We will not, at this time, advert to the fact that the city is being derived by individual position, which it is said, will be the next meeting of Council, we should be more mischievous than the one abundance of the rate of taxation. We allude to the charge for the reception of proposals for routes. The taxation amendment doubtless would be modified at the root of the entire system. Master's five, more than one way; it allows the Cincinnati Company to get the new Over C. Probate Court they have already and which, from what we have the rulings of that tribunal, we had for the asking.

PAW: after the expiration of which, a time would be spent in reports and action of Council upon the rates of interest affording every opportunity to the Cincinnati Company to try their power, until they found a jury to suit them. If, then, members wish to play into the hands of corner property, which by its proceedings has the best of them, and with them the entire community create delay by advocating a public proposal plan, but let them be strictly accountable for their action. Nor is this the only evil likely to result from the adoption of this amendment. A set of men who have any money can afford to enter into the competition. A proposal plan would create, for under it, a skilful adventurer may bid for, and oblige, with the sole hope of disposing of some one more unprincipled than himself; or one, we do not believe in driving off, who, by means of an experience, are common to do this work in a business manner, for the purpose of allowing some needy speculator to derive a profit from the gullibility of the public. We shall closely watch the vote on this Railway ordinance, and shall not fail to speak out boldly should occasion

St. John's Day.—The 24th of June, the Free Mason's Feast the world over, is the anniversary of the natal day of the beloved St. John, who was the forerunner of the Christian Master. Masonry, in elevating man, aiding him to subdue his passions, is the handmaid of Religion.

INTERESTING literary exercises commenced at Kenyon College in Knox county, to-morrow. Rev. Kingston Goddard, the new Rector of Christ Church in this city, is chairman of the Committee on Examination of Classes.

On Wednesday, the 29th instant, the Alumni have a reunion; on Thursday, the commencement takes place. This flourishing institution, under the charge of President Lorin Andrews, has never been in a more prosperous condition.

WEST END PARK.—NEW HOSPITAL.—The committee in council on Infirmary, have recommended the sale of the Hospital grounds on Twelfth street, and the use of the post-house lot on Hopkins and Freeman streets, as a site for new Hospital. It is contended that the money obtained for the sale of the old grounds will be sufficient to erect buildings in modern style of abundant conveniences—ventilation, &c. The old post-house lot of ten acres has been designed for a West End Park, which improvement would please property-holders in that quarter, who protest against the Hospital property. The city, we believe, have an apparent difference as to the measurement of the lot.

In 1829, Jephtha D. Garrard and Sarah Bella Garrard, now wife of Hon. John McLean, conveyed to Benjamin Hopkins, William Mills and George Lee, Trustees of the township of Cincinnati, a lot of ten acres on Freeman street and Hopkins street. The description of the measurement of the lot on Hopkins street made that line eleven chains ninety-six links long—but the whole is said to contain ten acres strict measure—which, at consideration of $2,000, would be at the rate of two hundred dollars per acre, but in reality, it is claimed that the word "eleven" should be "ten," for in March, 1834, Richard Ayers, William Borden and Isaac Poinner, then Trustees of the township of Cincinnati, conveyed to the city of Cincinnati six acres of said ten acre lot, describing the distance on the East and West line only ten chains, ninety-six links long. The consideration was that on February 5th, 1834, City Council had conveyed south half of out lot No. 53, to Cincinnati Orphan Asylum.

On the 14th August, 1837, Wm. Crossman, Josiah Forbes, and D. A. King, acting as trustees to the Township of Cincinnati and of Cincinnati Orphan Asylum, conveyed four acres, being all the residue of the Garrard ten acre lot—and the right to enter the poor of said township on said premises, in common with the city. The building has ceased to be used as a post-house, and right of interment there is no longer available, as burials are not allowed in the city limits. The City Council will discuss this topic to-night.

CRICKET MATCH AT CLEVELAND.—The Prairie Club, of Chicago, and St. George's Club, of Cleveland, played a match at the latter place, on Tuesday and Wednesday last, in which the Cleveland boys were badly beaten. The Herald says:

The game is finished—the Chicago Club being the victors, having scored, in both innings, 118; while the Cleveland Club scored but 60 in both innings.

A woman named Casey, who had been arrested for disorderly conduct, made her escape from the officers, yesterday morning, as they were conveying her from the Hammond street station house to the Police Court.

ABOUT twelve o'clock last night a general row occurred at the corner of Fifth and Vine streets, during which a river man named Williams was cut in seven different places. He is not expected to survive.

THE individual who left a package of goods in the West Hall of the Post Office, a few days since, is requested to call at the general delivery and get the same.

SEVERAL pockets were picked during the laying of the corner stone of the Catholic Institute yesterday afternoon. We heard of no large amount being lost.

A FRESH batch of the counterfeit tens of the Citizens' Bank of Louisiana were put in circulation yesterday. Look out for them.

At twelve o'clock last night the thermometer stood at 62 degrees. Rather cool for the season.

MENTA's Cornet Band gave a concert this evening at Moor's Garden.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.—Council met at the usual hour, President Conlan in the Chair; roll called and absentees noted.

The most important business before Council was the proposed repeal of the Sunday ordinance, or the war of the "fluids and solids." After considerable discussion both pro and con, substitutes, &c., the Sunday law was not repealed. Good Mr. King offered a resolution giving the committee on Ways and Means power to sell two $500 bonds to pay interest in New York in July.

The Committee on Law reported through the Attorney that Dr. Foster had removed from his own ward to another; it was the opinion of the Attorney, that he is entitled to his seat; but would with the Committee ask further time.

The Attorney reported that neither the city nor Mr. McGrew had any right to collect wharfage from boats at the landing he has leased from the city. Matter indefinitely postponed.

Claims of Caldwell and Stricker allowed. Claim of Jailer Sellman referred. The paving between Locust and Lowell streets was received and the contractor have power to collect special tax for same.

A VEREABLE CURIOSITY.—Mr. Benjamin Hendricks, of Newton township, has placed in our possession a most curious specimen of the vegetable creation. It is a radish in the form of an infant female child, in a sitting posture. By accident, the head was severed in raising it from the ground. The hands and feet are also lacking; but the arms are in the ordinary position, and the legs are completely fashioned to the trunk as if it were a thing of flesh and blood. The chest, too, is very perfect, and the thigh and groin are modeled to nature. All who have inspected it, concur in pronouncing it the most remarkable freak of the vegetable kingdom they have seen.—Newark O. Ad.
